News Briefs

A weekend symposium on "Self Care" will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday, March 19 and 20 in the Sheraton-Palace Hotel, San Francisco. Registration fee of $60, general or $35 for fulltime students, should be sent to UCSF Continuing Education in Health Sciences, 1308 Third Ave. Sponsors are UCSF Public Programs and Continuing Education, Schools of Dentistry, Medicine, Nursing and Pharmacy, and the Institute for the Study of Human Knowledge.

The Stress of Success conference, aimed at helping business executives cope with the pressures of achievement, will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., Tuesday, February 15, in the Hilton Hotel, San Francisco. Advance registration of $30 should be sent before February 10 to Friends of Langley Porter Institute at UCSF. Conference co-sponsors are the LPNI Friends and the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Final deadline for filing State and Endowment fund grant applications this fiscal year is February 1. Eligible for State funds are members of the Academic Senate, emeritus professors, prospective Senate members, and faculty on sabbatical. All faculty members are eligible for Endowment funds, available through the Academic Senate Committee on Research. Endowment funding is restricted to specific research areas. Applications should be submitted to the Academic Senate Office, 119 S, prior to the deadline date.

The School of Medicine's annual Alumni-Faculty Homecoming will be held this year Friday, May 6 and Saturday, May 7. The Friday session will feature a scientific program, including talks by faculty members on some of the challenges facing the medical world today. A tour of the Sunset Gardens in Menlo Park and lunch at Allied Arts in Palo Alto is scheduled for spouses. Saturday will be a more festive day with a tour of SFGH, the Homecoming Luncheon, and the Annual Banquet. In conjunction with Homecoming, Dr. Edward A. Kass has been named first AFA Distinguished Alumnus Visiting Professor. Dr. Kass, Professor of Medicine at Harvard Medical School will spend Homecoming week at UCSF.

An appeal for donors to leave pituitary glands in their wills so that children with growth problems can grow to normal height was issued Wednesday morning, January 19 on ABC's national program, "Good Morning, America." The fairly recent development of growth hormone injections in the last two decades was dealt with in an in-depth interview with Geraldo Rivera who filmed patients, parents, and physicians in the special UCSF Pediatric Endocrine Unit. Rivera had heard of the human growth program at UCSF from a patient's grandmother — Ilse Sternberger of San Francisco. Her grandson, Ritchie Saga, 12, of Cupertino, has been treated for a pituitary growth hormone deficiency at UCSF for the past three-and-a-half years by Selna L. Kaplan, co-director of the Endocrine Unit. UCSF has one of the largest centers for the study and treatment of human growth disorders in the United States. The UCSF Endocrinology Unit treats several hundred children a year for a variety of growth problems.

New UCSF phone directories will be available in September. This will allow for changes made in June to be incorporated.

A $100,000 trust fund has been established by Saul and Ida Epstein of Pacific Palisades to support anatomical research on the ear at the Department of Otolaryngology, under the direction of Robert A. Schindler, Assistant Professor of Otolaryngology. The first major purchase will be an electron microscope.

The British Consul-General honored UCSF researchers at a reception, Wednesday, January 26. The researchers have completed a post-stroke treatment study using British-made equipment. Honored were June C. Abbey, former chairman of the Biological Dysfunctions Department, UCSF School of Nursing, who now holds a similar post at the University of Utah, Salt Lake City; Judith A. Ward, her UCSF successor; and Gregory Bard, Associate Clinical Professor of Orthopedic Surgery (physical medicine and rehabilitation), consultant to the project. Dr. Abbey and the UCSF research team tested the effectiveness of a surgical boot on post-stroke patients in an East Bay hospital. They kept the boots on patients during their entire hospitalization. Currently, the boot is used only during surgery. Dr. Abbey's preliminary findings show a decrease in blood clot formation and fluid retention with extended use of the boot.

SFGH Briefs

"Self Health for Women", a new five week series of free classes, will begin Monday evening, February 7 from 5:30-7 p.m. at the Women's Clinic, SFGH. The Women's Clinic is under medical supervision of the UCSF Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology and is operated by the S.F. Department of Public Health. For further information call the instructor, Penn Garvin, 565-8166.

Volunteers are being sought to participate in a SFGH study of the use of lithium as a medication for the treatment of alcoholism. Lithium is a metallic element which exists in tiny amounts in all plants, animals and humans. It has been used for many years in the treatment of manic-depressive illness and in other mood disorders. There is new evidence of its possible effectiveness in controlling or reducing the desire to drink alcohol. Unlike Antabuse, lithium does not make one ill after drinking. Male alcoholics between 25 and 55 who would like to participate in the 6 month study should be referred to Dr. Michael Phillips, or Mrs. Ruth Vandervoort, SFGH Department of Pharmacology, 565-8324.

The SFGH Lobby Gift Shop, a service of the Volunteer Auxiliary, is now open from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturdays and from 1-4 p.m. Sundays, as well as weekdays. Volunteer staffing of the lobby Information Desk has also been expanded to include Saturdays and Sundays.

Facial Paralysis Clinic has been introduced at SFGH by Roger L. Crumley, Chief of Otolaryngology at SFGH and Assistant Professor in Residence at UCSF. The Otolaryngology, Neurology and Neurosurgery services will cooperate in the treatment of patients with Bell's Palsy, traumatic paralysis and other disorders of the facial nerve. Dr. Crumley also heads a new Facial Paralysis laboratory which is evaluating new techniques in facial nerve grafting as well as diagnostic testing and treatment of facial paralysis in trauma patients.

As required by Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (45 CFR 86), the University of California does not discriminate on the basis of sex in admission to or employment in the educational programs and activities which it operates. Inquiries concerning Title IX may be directed to Affirmative Action Office, Room 120 U, San Francisco Campus, extension 4752, or the Director of the Office of Civil Rights, Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Deadline for the next issue of Today/Tomorrow which will cover the events from Feb. 12-25 will be Tuesday, Feb. 1, 11 a.m. Please send your copy to Allen Balderson, News Services Department, 1475 4th Ave.
